

Expert Speaks on Surviving the Race to the Future

“Fast Forward – Surviving the Race to the Future” by internationally renowned author, researcher and astrologer, Linda Schurman, offers an unflinching diagnosis of current and coming events and the historical occurrences that foreshadow our global future. She explores insights that will shed light on choices we may make to restore health to the earth, create new and prosperous economies, and discover inspiration and meaning to the trajectories of our lives. She answers the questions we are all asking: “What lies ahead and what can we do?”

Linda’s first book, “What Next? A Survival Guide to the 21st Century” clearly assessed and forecasted the economic and political cycles we are now experiencing. Published in June of 2007, this book predicted the housing collapse of 2007, the “crash” on Wall Street in 2008, the rise in the dollar value of gold, the coming consequences of global climate change, and an increase in earthquake and volcanic activity over the past several years.

“Linda Schurman correctly predicted the financial downturns of this decade back in the 1990s. She has an amazing track record in predicting the geopolitical upheavals we are currently experiencing. She successfully combines information from global financial, political, and scientific sources with historical research and future planetary placements, to create not only a startling picture of our future, but points the way to humanity’s creation of a world that can work for all its inhabitants.” — James H. Cook, PhD, Legal Consultant

On her online newsletter she predicted the environmental disaster (BP oil eruption) in the Gulf in 2010, the earthquake and tsunami that struck Japan in 2011, and a major breakthrough in physics in 2012 (the substantiation of Higgs/Boson or “The God Particle”).

The first section of “Fast Forward” reviews the situations in which we find ourselves and how we got here, including the U.S. and global economies, who is currently running things, and how this information can bring us out of the confusion into the light.

The later chapters reveal probable discoveries and changes in direction that may bring solutions to problems that at present seem intractable. She sees people stepping up to the plate to help us “invent” our way out these crises. She believes that by changing the way we live at the “grassroots,” we may profoundly improve our lives.

About the Author:

Linda Schurman is an internationally-renowned author, researcher and astrologer and serves a premier clientele that includes corporations, finance service companies and private individuals. She is the author of Fast Forward: Surviving the Race To the Future, and What Next A Survival Guide to the 21st Century. Many of her past predictions have been amazingly accurate in regards to the economy, environmental/climate changes, and political cycles, etc. She has appeared on numerous radio shows and has had recent articles posted on the Huffington Post and is also the editor and publisher of an online newsletter found on her website www.soothesayer.com.

For Immediate Release

Contact: Linda Strick, Perfect P.R.

Phone: 310-452-0186

Cell: 310-866-1168

Email: perfectprforyou@gmail.com

www.perfectprforyou.com